

How to take advantage of and shape the opportunities in the cannabis industry through government relations

Date and time:

Start: March 30, 2021, 1:00 PM CST

End: March 30, 2021, 2:00 PM CST

Thank you for attending our program on government relations in the cannabis industry. It is clear that companies are looking at ways to use various public affair tools at the state level and beginning to organize “citizen grassroots” activities to take advantage of these opportunities -- all of which and more was discussed. We hope you found it informative and that you will reach out to any of our panelists should you have questions.
