

Black Lives Matter Getting Recruitment Right

Date and time:

Start: May 6, 2021, 9:30 AM BST

End: May 6, 2021, 10:45 AM BST

Location:

Via webinar

The Black Lives Matter movement prompted a long overdue focus on the challenges faced by black people and other ethnic minorities in the workplace. How to make a real and tangible difference is one of the big questions facing decision-makers within workplaces of all shapes and sizes. Our series of quarterly webinars sees the Dentons People, Reward and Mobility team joined by leading industry guest speakers to discuss what companies need to be doing to advance their awareness and tackle modern racism at work.

In our next webinar we will consider what employers can do now to attract and retain talent, whilst driving meaningful change. Topics for discussion include:

- attracting diverse talent;
- avoiding unconscious bias;
- positive action;
- sponsorship and support.

The session will feature the following speakers:

- Colleen Amos OBE – Co-Founder and Chief Executive, The Amos Bursary
- Ama Ocansey – UK Head of Diversity & Inclusion, BNP Paribas
- Puneet Tahim – Client Services and Lateral Hiring Manager, Rare Recruitment
- Virginia Allen – Partner & Head of People, Reward & Mobility UK, Dentons
- Purvis Ghani – Partner, People, Reward & Mobility, Dentons
- Alison Weatherhead – Partner, People, Reward & Mobility, Dentons

Please join us for a collaborative discussion to identify steps we can all take to drive change.

Questions

Please contact Aleksandra Baran if you have any questions about this event.