

BGD Estate Planning Department Earns Top Rankings in Chambers High Net Worth 2019

July 11, 2019

Four Bingham Greenebaum Doll attorneys earned top ranks in the newly published 2019 edition of Chambers High Net Worth. In addition to recognizing attorneys, BGD earned a Firm ranking of Band 1 in Kentucky and Band 2 in Indiana.

“Our Estate Planning department has distinguished itself as one of the preeminent private wealth law practices in the region,” said Tobin McClamroch, Managing Partner of the Firm. “I am pleased to see the recognition of John S. Lueken, John R. Cummins, Mark H. Oppenheimer and Greg J. Duncan and in the 2019 guide.”

The High Net Worth guide, marking its fourth edition this year, caters to family offices and professional advisers to wealthy individuals in the international private wealth market. The guide is the newest publication issued by Chambers and Partners, which produces expert guides for the USA, UK, Europe and many other global markets.

Attorneys and departments are ranked based on their technical legal ability, professional conduct, client service and other factors.

John S. Lueken, chair of the Firm’s Estate Planning Department, is described by Chambers sources as “the best in the business” and “a sensible, practical, level-headed attorney” who is “very knowledgeable in his scope of practice.”

John R. Cummins focuses his practice on estates, trusts, family business and disability planning. One Chambers source describes him as an “outstanding attorney: very technically savvy and a prolific reader...he practices at the very highest level.”

Mark H. Oppenheimer advises high net worth individual clients on business succession, estate planning, and estate administration. One Chambers source mentions that he “has a reputation as someone for family succession planning and advises closely held business-owning families who need consultants.”

Greg J. Duncan, who a Chambers source refers to as the “the consummate professional,” focuses his practice on succession planning and wealth preservation strategies.
