

Dentons US elects Parker Kuhl as new partner in Denver

February 20, 2020

DENVER -- Dentons, the world's largest law firm, today announces the promotion of one lawyer in its Denver office to partner. The newly elected partner is Parker Kuhl.

He joins 42 lawyers promoted across Dentons in North America.

"This is an exceptionally proud and exciting time for Dentons in the US as we grow, not only through our latest combinations but from within our own outstanding talent," said Mike McNamara, Chief Executive Officer of Dentons US. "We welcome Parker as our newest partner and reward his dedicated work in serving our clients and his commitment to the Denver legal community."

"Our partners in Denver remain steadfast in our commitment to our clients' future through highly accomplished lawyers like Parker," said Joseph Martinez, managing partner of Dentons' Denver office. "As we continue to grow our talent, Parker reflects the best of our team in Denver and know he will become a future leader within Dentons and within the business community in Denver."

Bio of Parker Kuhl:

Parker Kuhl (Intellectual Property and Technology, Denver) focuses his practice on domestic and international patent prosecution, strategic patent counseling and patent litigation support. He represents companies, both large and small, in a wide range of technologies, including computer software and hardware, computer networking, autonomous vehicles, computer animation, sensor systems, optical systems and mechanical devices. He has experience representing clients at the Patent Trial and Appeal Board (PTAB) and has appeared in several oral hearings before the PTAB. Kuhl previously worked as an engineer for an advanced technologies company, and is a co-inventor of US Patent No. 7,629,920 involving improved radar signal processing techniques.
