

Courtney Burton appointed as co-head of Dentons' Energy group in Calgary

September 24, 2020

Dentons is proud to announce the appointment of partner Courtney Burton as co-head of the Firm's Energy group in Calgary. With extensive experience in energy-related transactions, Courtney has been a member of the Corporate/Commercial group for more than 10 years.

Courtney advises a variety of public and private companies on derivatives matters, including negotiating physical and financial commodity trading transactions, providing advice on Canadian derivatives regulation and compliance matters, and assisting with cross-border energy derivatives compliance issues. She regularly advises clients on transactions and commercial matters, including asset share transactions and the provision of advice on governance matters.

"Courtney is an exceptional lawyer who was already taking a significant leadership role within Dentons and the wider legal community. We are confident that George Antonopoulos and her will be successful in co-managing the Energy group as our Calgary office looks to build momentum and keep driving our business forward despite the pandemic," said Tim Haney, Managing Partner of Dentons' Calgary office.

Active on numerous initiatives and highly committed to the advancement of women, Courtney acts as the Canada Region lead for Women LEAD, Dentons' global women's affinity group focused on supporting and building the success of women in the Firm.
