

Partner Namik Ramić joins Dentons to lead Corporate and M&A in Luxembourg

May 3, 2021

Luxembourg —Global law firm Dentons has strengthened its Corporate and M&A practice in Luxembourg with the recruitment of partner Namik Ramić.

Martine Gerber-Lemaire, Luxembourg Managing Partner at Dentons, commented, “Our ambitious ‘Luxembourg 2.0’ strategy – focused on growing our presence by attracting talent in key practice areas – continues to gain momentum. Developing our Corporate and M&A and Private Equity capabilities is a top priority, so we are truly delighted to welcome Namik to the team.”

Namik Ramić brings more than 10 years of transactional experience in mergers and acquisitions, private equity, joint ventures, structuring, financing and equity capital markets. He advises private equity clients in relation to acquisition and other structures, and is active in the field of investment structures. He also provides general corporate law advice. In addition, he advises major international clients on financing as well as corporate restructuring and refinancing. He was previously a partner at Elvinger Hoss Prussen.

He speaks five languages including English, French, German, Bosnian and Luxembourgish.

Marien Glerum, Benelux Managing Officer added, “Namik is an energetic young partner who has gained a solid reputation among private equity houses, family offices, startups and the international business community in Luxembourg. He will make a great addition to our growing team.”

Namik Ramić commented on his move, “I am excited by the opportunity to join the world’s largest law firm and to work in collaboration with my new colleagues to build up a dynamic Corporate and M&A practice in Luxembourg.”
