

Dentons' Erin O'Sullivan named among Crain's New York Business 20 in their 20s

June 28, 2021

Dentons, the world's largest law firm, announces today that Erin O'Sullivan has been chosen by Crain's New York Business as a "20 in their 20s" honoree for 2021. O'Sullivan is a law clerk in Dentons' Litigation and Dispute Resolution practice and is a resident in the New York office.

The award honors 20 local professionals in their 20s who are making a mark on Metro New York. O'Sullivan was selected for her strong work ethic displayed in the first decade of her legal career and her dedication to giving back, which is demonstrated in her sincere commitment to social justice. Within her practice, O'Sullivan focuses on commercial litigation in federal and state court, as well as international arbitration and disputes. She also helps advise a variety of companies on federal digital accessibility litigation under the Americans With Disabilities Act and compliance with web accessibility regulations in New York courts.

In addition to her service to clients, O'Sullivan has established an impressive record working for social justice and promotion of the rule of law. She worked for Lawyers Without Borders (LWOB), a nonprofit devoted to advancing the rule of law globally, for more than four years on a variety of initiatives, notably LWOB's first legal training project in Tanzania, which combatted human trafficking. Her civic commitment runs deep and has included her work with other important humanitarian and community service organizations, such as the AIDS Project New Haven, the University of Connecticut School of Law Immigration Detention Services Project, Georgetown University Law Center's Civil Rights Clinic, the Food Bank for New York City and several other similar services.
