

Yasser Taqi

Senior Associate

Senior Associate

Muscat

D +968 2457 3048

yasser.taqi@dentons.com

Overview

Yasser is an English qualified lawyer working with the Energy, Transport and Infrastructure team of Dentons' Muscat office where he advises local and international companies operating in the construction, energy and banking sectors on the full range of International and Omani laws and matters of practical implementation including issues of local regulatory framework, commercial lending and security.

Yasser trained in the Dubai and London offices working in the Banking, Corporate, Construction and Dispute Resolution Departments. Prior to joining Dentons, Yasser worked with another international firm in Muscat. He is fluent in both English and Arabic.

Recognition

In the Media

Publication:

- Oman:Renewable Energy Laws and Regulations 2021, ICLG, September 21, 2020

Insights

- "Dentons contributes to the ICLG Renewables Guide," September 22, 2021
- "Oil and gas regulation in Oman: overview," Dentons client alert, July 17, 2018
- "Oil and gas regulation in Oman: overview," Dentons client alert, August 15, 2017

Areas of focus

Practices

- Energy
- Banking and Finance

Industry sectors

- Energy
- Construction

Region

- Middle East
- Muscat
-

Education

- The College of Law, 2012, Legal Practice Course
- BPP Law School, 2011, Graduate Diploma in Law
- Monash University, 2008, BA, Business Law & Finance

Admissions and qualifications

- Solicitor, Law Society of England and Wales, 2014

Languages

- Arabic
- English