

FinTech: Shaping the future.

No industry seems to undergo such a fast change process as the financial sector. Electronic means of payment and payment solutions, cryptic forms of financing and investment products, as well as the crypto custody services will experience their breakthrough in 2020.

While many new developments will succeed, some will not. But one thing is for sure: FinTech has a great future – especially with the right legal and therefore sustainable design.

Shape the future of FinTech with us.

■ How we can support your business

Like the financial system itself, your company must also stand on solid pillars. On the one hand, you need to be adaptable and react quickly to change. On the other hand, you as a financial market player make a significant contribution to the resilience of the financial system in uncertain times. Especially the so-called crypto sector is characterized by high price volatility and thus constant uncertainty.

In particular, with the Act Implementing the Amending Directive to the Fourth EU Money Laundering Directive, the legal situation has become somewhat clearer, but not necessarily simpler. The money laundering regulations have become stricter, the provisions of the German Banking Act have become more important for bringing visions to life.

We are at your side for all your legal challenges in a solution-oriented and efficient manner, both in terms of specialist areas and across borders. We know your high demands and how to meet them. Among other things, we offer you tailor-made solutions for your needs:

- Market and legal analysis, update services
- Examination of financing possibilities
- Due Diligence, especially of targets
- Contract review and drafting of any kind
- Examination of the need for a permit
- Risk Assessment and Management
- Change and project management
- Communication with authorities
- Support for external communication
- The advantages of a large network.

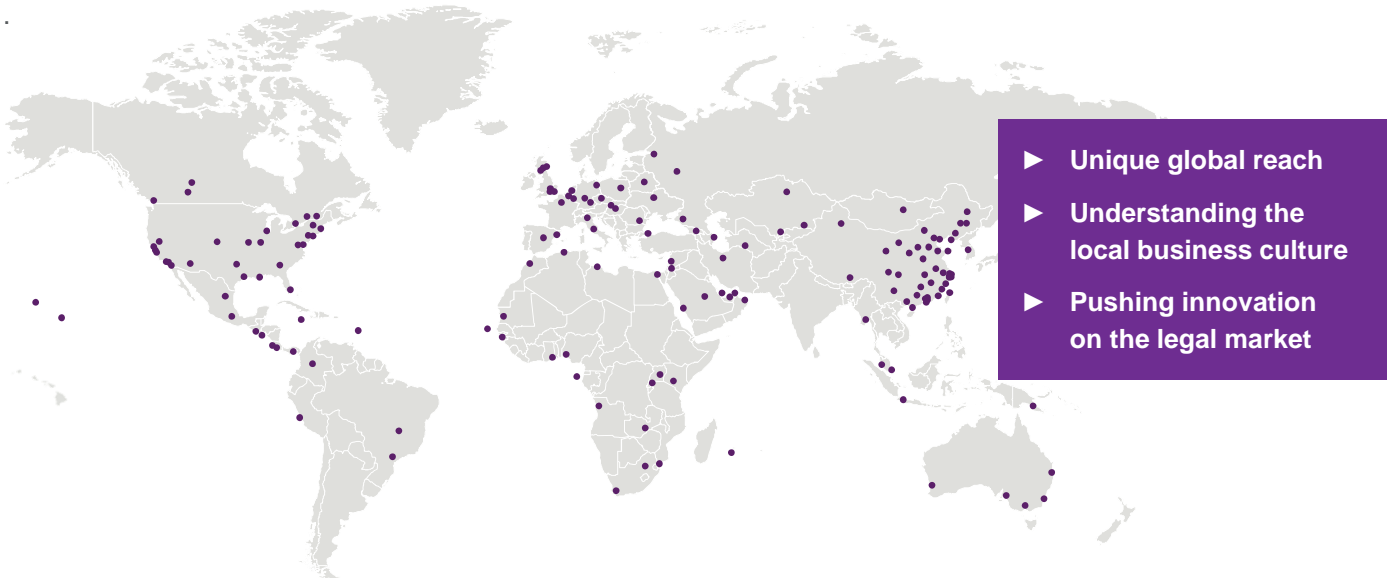

This is only a selection of services offered. Please contact us at any time if you are interested.
