

Fact sheet

Dentons, the world's largest law firm, and Brazil's Vella Pugliese Buosi Guidoni are proposing a strategic alliance, allowing both firms to uniquely position themselves to serve their clients in Brazil and around the globe.

About the proposed strategic alliance

The proposed alliance follows the launch last year of Dentons López Velarde in Mexico and Dentons Cardenas & Cardenas in Colombia, as well as Dentons Muñoz in Central America which launched earlier this year. With this step, Dentons is growing faster in Latin America with high quality talent in a way that no other law firm has ever done before.

By the numbers

- Brazil has the largest economy in Latin America, accounting for almost 50% of the region's economic output, and the ninth largest economy in the world.
- Dentons' existing global clients would have direct access to Vella Pugliese Buosi Guidoni's 13 partners and 116 fee earners in offices in São Paulo and Brasília.
- The proposed strategic alliance would give VPBG's clients access to the experience and talents of thousands of Dentons lawyers working in 62 countries on six continents.

Benefits of the proposed alliance

The alliance would enhance both firms' depth and reach in key business sectors and practice groups, including competition and antitrust, corporate/M&A, dispute resolution and litigation, labor, international trade, commodity finance, tax, public and administrative law, real estate and environmental law.
